Subject: HR crunch in coming weeks.....

Hi EPA friends,

Heads up that we'll lose [REDACTED] to the beautiful island of Sicily next week through the G7 Leaders Summit. [REDACTED] is our U.S. credential guru and will be gone (but certainly not forgotten!) from May 15-May 29.

In the meantime, our Econ and ESTH Sections will be pretty empty. My fabulous boss is acting Deputy Chief of Mission and Lee's Econ counterpart will be at G7. In fact, I'll be the only Econ/ESTH officer here at the start of next week. I'll technically be acting Econ Counsellor Minister, Econ Counselor, acting energy, transpo, microecon, macroecon, banking, telecom, etc. Hopefully not too many demarches come in on sanctions, etc. ☺

What that means for you is that we'd appreciate as many action items this week for the Administrator's visit (setting up logistics and meetings for the advance trip, getting all invitations out/meetings confirmed this week, etc.)

The judicial roundtable and the Bruno Leone event are enough for a long morning into the traditional 1:00 p.m. Italian lunch. A municipal/provincial roundtable is not going to happen – please consult with Martin on the Italian federalism point that we discussed. Since we don't know where the judge's roundtable will occur – and it may be in judge's chambers – and we don't know where Bruno Leone will have their event- we need to build in more time for the encounters. Italians like to talk, and as demanders, we need to give these judges and the travelers from out of town respect by giving them more time with the Administrator.

Cheers, [REDACTED] Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy
